

THE 6CS @HOME

Good at Learning, Good at Life

The 6 Global Competencies below support all children as they grow. Competencies are lifelong skills that prepare kids for any pathway they take in our complex world. All young people can develop the Global Competencies inside and outside of school.

THE 6CS @HOME – Good at Learning, Good at Life

Use the questions below to start discussions with your child about how they are learning them.

Affirming Conversations

When your child uses the competency, Use these sentence stems to praise your child.

- I noticed that when you did this...
- You were demonstrating...(Competency)
- This will support you because...
- Showing ____ (Competency) helps others because...

Discussion Starters that Promote Thinking

- Extend the conversation by having them reflect on the Competency
- What did you notice about that experience?
- How did you make a difference when you did that?
- How did it feel when you were doing that?
- What is a take-away from that?
- What did you enjoy about that?
- What was easy about doing that?
- What might you do next time?
- In what ways were you working on ____ (competency) when you were doing that?

Noticing the Competencies Around Us

Use these sentence stems to talk about competencies your family experiences.

- What did you notice about that (issue, event, person's behaviour)?
- How did that person show ____? (Competency)
- How does doing ____ (Competency) make a difference?
- How do you think others felt when that person showed ____ (Competency)?
- If that person was with you now, what might you say to that person?
- What would you have done differently?
- How did you come to that conclusion?
- Have you ever considered...?
