

GLOBAL DEEP LEARNING LAB 2018

engage the world
change the world

April 16-18

Fairmont Hotel Vancouver
900 West Georgia Street, Vancouver, Canada

Engage with some of the most inspiring educators of our time as the New Pedagogies for Deep Learning network meets for its annual Deep Learning Lab.

Here, the world's most energized educators gather to stretch their imaginations, share their work and reflect on the impact deep learning is having on students and staff. Our common purpose is fostering deep learning so that all learners contribute to the common good, address challenges and flourish in a complex world. Join leaders, teachers, students, and partners from Australia, Canada, Finland, Netherlands, New Zealand, United States, Uruguay and beyond.

April 16-17 - We welcome educators, leaders, partners, students, and parents.

April 18 - NPDL Members will continue collaborating.

NPDL Non-member US$995
NPDL Members US$895
Members Early Bird US$795 until Feb 16

New Pedagogies for
Deep Learning™
A GLOBAL PARTNERSHIP

THOUGHT LEADERS

New Pedagogies for Deep Learning announces a powerhouse of thought leaders to catapult your innovative thinking to a global scale and into the future.

Dr Jean Clinton

Clinical Professor of Neurosciences, child advocate, education advisor to the premier of Ontario.

Rod Allen

Rod Allen led British Columbia's new curriculum and transformation to personalized learning.

Marc Chun

Marc Chun is a Program Officer in education with Hewlett Foundation. He leads the deep learning portfolio.

Michael Stevenson

Michael Stevenson is Senior Adviser at PISA, OECD. He shapes the OECD Education2030 narrative.

Pasi Sahlberg

Finnish educator, author and scholar.

NPDL Global Directors

Joanne McEachen, Michael Fullan and Joanne Quinn.

More information and registration here: <https://npdl-events.eventsmart.com/>